A Letter from the Pastor

Written by Pastor Jay Anderson

Greetings Brothers and Sisters in Christ!

I shared with you last month my plans to attend the Church of the Resurrection Leadership Institute in Kansas City prior to Lynn and I taking a week of vacation in Arizona at the end of September and into October. This month I want to reflect on that time with you a bit.

As I shared previously, the COR Leadership Institute is an annual event hosted by Rev. Adam Hamilton at the largest United Methodist Church in our denomination, Church of the Resurrection, with over 22,000 members. Typically this event is open to anyone from any denomination to come in and attend workshops and teachings about church leadership at all levels (I would love to take a team of leaders from Church of the Master to this event next year!). However, with all that is happening within our denomination right now around issues of human sexuality, they limited the scope of the institute this year to just United Methodists and how we might move forward as a denomination. The group was largely, but not exclusively, made up of those who fall within the Centrist-Progressive part of the church who believe that our denomination should stay together, and that we should be open and affirming of full rights for LGBTQIA+ people within the denomination. I should add here that within the United States, that is the position held by the large majority of United Methodists and that it is only when looked at in the context of world Methodism that that is not the case.

We spent much time hearing from speakers who have somehow been impacted or hurt by the church's current position and language on human sexuality as well as from those who cast a bright vision for what the church might look like in the future.

Among the issues that were raised throughout the conference was the crisis of suicide in general, but especially as it relates to young LGBTQIA+ people who were being bullied, or worse, tortured in school, and/or rejected by both their family and their church. These young people, feeling they have nowhere to turn, are taking their own lives at an alarming rate. One of the things Hamilton pleaded with us as pastors to do when we returned to our churches was to address the issue of suicide in some way - through a sermon or series, a study, or by connecting with a local organization who provides counseling services in our own communities. I brought home a couple of resource materials with me in order to do that very thing, knowing that we have LGBTQIA+ friends and family in our congregation as well as in our community.

Of course, as you all know, our family was struck by the tragedy of suicide in a very personal way just days after we returned from a wonderful vacation, when one of our sons-in-law took his own life. In our case, we didn't see or recognize the signs of mental illness and/or depression until it was too late. And while we knew that there were issues that Jeff and our daughter were working through, the fact is they were working on them, they were making progress towards resolving the stresses in their marriage. That is one of the things that makes this all the more tragic for everyone involved. Things were turning around for them, so nobody knows what suddenly snapped in Jeff's mind or his thinking that made him resort to a permanent solution to a temporary problem. And unfortunately, we'll likely never understand. That is the nature of mental illness and depression when it goes unrecognized or undiagnosed. And it is a tragedy.

Our West Ohio Conference recognizes the tragedy that suicide is, especially to our youth and young people, and is offering a Suicide Prevention Workshop at Stoney Brook United Methodist Church on November 17th at 2:30 p.m., in cooperation with our friends at Ohio Health. The Workshop is geared towards youth, youth workers, and parents, but is open to all. There is no cost to attend the workshop, but registration is required. You can find more information and can register through the West Ohio Conference website, www.westohioumc.org.

On a personal note, Lynn and I cannot thank you all enough for all the ways in which you have carried us through these last few weeks since that tragic day on October 9th. Your prayers, cards, kind words, and gifts of food have lifted us and sustained us in ways you'll never fully know. Our family has dealt with tragedy before, and we know that we will get through this with time. But we also know that one of the ways we all get through these times of trouble is that, as the band U2 says in their song One, "we get to carry each other."

Thank you for carrying, and caring for us during this time,

Blessings,

Pastor Jay

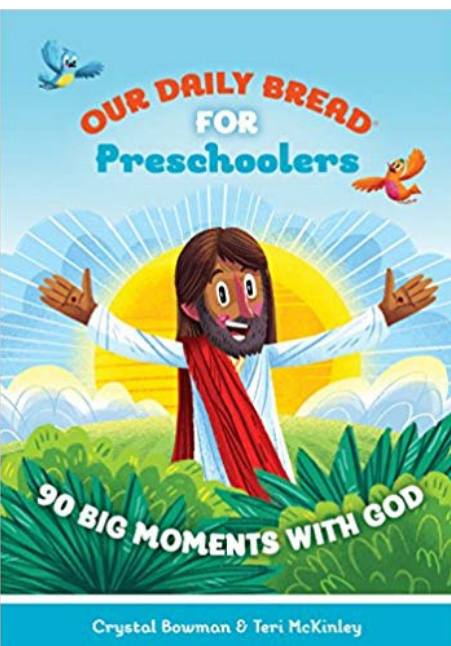

Join us every month in the "Staff's Cozy Corner" as we showcase a staff member as they share their current favorite reading materials. This month, Miss Erin joins us as she shares about her family's current book of choice: "Our Daily Bread for Kids – 365 Meaningful Moments with God" by Crystal Bowman & Teri McKinley

Earlier this year, Pastor Jay began a staff meeting by asking us how we begin our day. Do we check our phones as soon as we get up, do we fix a cup of coffee, check the news, or maybe exercise? Pastor Jay challenged each of us to be a bit more purposeful about how we frame our day and how spending time with God first thing in the morning might shape our day in a different way. As I pondered this and reflected on my daily routines, I began to think about how we begin the day with our kids. How do we frame their days? Are there ways that we could be more purposeful about that time in the morning? Are we sending our kids out the door with a little bit of Jesus to carry them through the day? With this in mind, I started the school year with a new morning devotional for my kids. The book "Our Daily Bread for Kids – 365 Meaningful Moments with God" by Crystal Bowman & Teri McKinley has been a wonderful resource for our family. The book is written primarily for elementary age children and includes a simple devotion for every day of the year. (There is also a preschool version "Our Daily Bread for Preschoolers – 90 Big Moments With God.") I love how this devotion is strongly rooted in God's Word. Each day begins with a Bible verse (always from a translation that makes the verse easy to understand for the children.) The devotion for the day highlights the Bible verse and then helps the children apply it to their lives in a practical way. Each day includes a "fun fact" (which my boys love!!) and a "Read More" section to extend their learning. This is especially good for older children. We are still figuring out the right time to fit this in as part of our morning routine. Sometimes we read it together at breakfast, sometimes we gather on the couch and sometimes I read it sitting in the driveway (while they are all strapped in their car seats and not bothering each other!) While that piece is still a work in progress, I do see a difference as we take this time to focus together on God in the morning. Our day IS framed in a different way.

Do you have a devotion that you enjoy reading as a family? Let's share our ideas and encourage each other to point our families towards God each step of the way.

Where Are They Now?

BY BEV PANCOAST

As a church family we watch our children become youth and when they graduate from high school many times we lose track of where they are and what they are doing. Each month we will feature an update on “our kids” who are now out in the world.

Caroline O'Connor

After graduating from Westerville Central High School, Caroline attended Miami University, graduating in 2018 with a B.S. in Exercise Science & Dietetics. Caroline spent 2019 completing her Dietetic Internship in the Columbus area and working as a personal trainer and nutritionist at The Medallion Club in Westerville. Upon completion of the internship, she passed her exam to be a Registered Dietitian and moved to St. Petersburg, Florida, where she now runs her own business, called The SimplyFit Dietitian, LLC.

Caroline wrote:

“My favorite memory at Church of the Master has to be the REACH trips. I'm not even sure how to describe those memories, you really had to be there. The laughs, the friendships, the stories, the games. You end up forming close bonds you'll never forget! I remember being very anxious for the first one, because I wasn't that close with anyone in the youth group, but after that week ... I looked forward to youth group events because I knew I'd have fun and truly enjoy the company I was around.”

“I tend to lean towards being shy at first and following the crowd simply not to disrupt the waters, but Church of the Master really gave me a safe space to step into my shoes as a leader. It allowed me to develop that skill in a nurturing environment!”

Suicide Prevention Workshop for Youth and Parents

November 17, 5:30pm – 7:30pm

We'd like to come alongside you, your team of volunteers, your families, and your youth to help bring awareness around how to identify and prevent suicide in teens. This event will be held at Stonybrook UMC, 485 Cherry Bottom Road, Gahanna, OH 43230. Dinner will be served. Please let Bev know by Sunday, November 10th if you are participating so we can register the group. Click here to register if you're reading this online.

Hanging of the Greens

November, 24 4:00-7:00 p.m.

We will be joining with members of our congregation to help get the church decorated bit Advent. (Yes, this will be before Thanksgiving, but we figure people would want to be home with family, eating leftover Turkey, and watching the Big Game with “that team up north.”)

Family Christmas Tree Ornaments

As we head towards Advent and all the decorations, you will find a big Christmas tree. It is adorned with ornaments that represent people/ families of our church. We would love you and /or your family to bring an ornament for our “family tree.” Each year, when the family Christmas tree is put up, people will look at it and remember our community. Questions? Contact Bev Pancoast.

Campus Ministry

820 plates of spaghetti served at the Fall Spaghetti Dinner in October. We could not offer this hospitality to our campus neighbors without the generosity of the Church of the Master congregation. Thank you to everyone who helped make this dinner possible!

Campus ministry is continuing steadily. We have regular students attending prisms on Wednesday evenings. We have been talking about women in the Bible (Mary Magdalene, Eve, Mary, mother of Jesus). Monday Morning Coffee Ministry continues to grow; we are averaging close to 100 students each Monday. Our spaghetti dinner was a huge success! We served 820 plates, enjoyed the company of a mini horse name Danny, and fellowshiped with many students. We appreciate all the Church of the Master does the support this incredible ministry.

Our prayers and condolences are with Pastory Jay, Lynn, their daughter Jill and her son Aiden at the loss of Jeff (Pastor Jay and Lynn's son-in-law) on October 9, 2019.

Congratulations to Beau Michael Schmitz and his family!
We celebrated his baptism in worship
on October 20, 2019.

Ministry Spotlight

Telecare Ministry

Over 10 years ago, a few volunteers and our pastor at the time joined together in a discussion about reaching out to members of our congregation in a more personal and intimate way than the usual small talk that happens on a Sunday morning. Out of that conversation, Telecare was born. This ministry has been successful since the beginning. When the ministry first began, it had almost 30 callers who gathered at the church to call families to connect, pray together, and share together. Some of our current callers are original and have been calling the same families for over 10 years! In fact, one of our callers has spent Thanksgiving with one of their recipients just from the connection and bond they made over the monthly phone calls. These calls are a chance for people in our church, especially folks who have physical or transportation challenges, to continue to be a part of our community. This ministry deserves a huge spotlight and all of our volunteers and coordinators deserve a huge thank you.

A special thank you to all of our Telecare volunteers who spend time connecting with the families in our congregation every month! We are so thankful for all that you do, all the time you put into our ministry, and your loving hearts.

If you are not receiving a monthly Telecare call and would like to be added to our call logs, or if you'd like to volunteer to be a monthly caller, please contact Kristina in the church office at office@chmaster.org

A Note from The Facilities Department

We were pleased to have CBS News based in our parking lot for the recent Democratic Debate held at Otterbein University on October 15, 2019. They were treated to Church of the Master hospitality with use of the restrooms, kitchenette and Chapel as well as broadcasting from the Grove St. area in front of the church. We shared the sad news of the funeral for Pastor Jay and Lynn's son-in-law that made it necessary for the crew to leave a few hours earlier than planned. They were most gracious about having to make the change. Here is an email we received in appreciation:

April-

It was a pleasure meeting and working with you. You truly went above and beyond what we could have even dreamed of for this site. Your hospitality was amazing. I hope the community is holding up after the funeral today. I imagine it is a sad day and am thinking and praying for the entire congregation. I hope we cross paths soon!

Take care,
